Toekoms van Bergrivier ‘in die hande van die jeug’

Fase een van die langverwagte Pietie Fredericks-jeugsentrum in Piketberg is verlede Maandag amptelik aan die Bergrivier-munisipaliteit oorhandig.

PCC De Hoek het die oorhandiging op 31 Oktober behartig.

Die burgemeester, Ray van Rooy, het by die geleentheid genoem jeugontwikkeling is ’n sleutelkomponent in die munisipaliteit se visie om “ ’n voorspoedige gemeenskap te skep, waar almal op ’n waardige manier wil woon, werk, leer en speel”.

“Die toekoms van Bergrivier is in ons kinders se hande,” het hy gesê.

“Die belangrikheid daarvan om in ons jeug te belê, kan nie oorbeklemtoon word nie en ek glo sterk dat hierdie geriewe ’n stewige grondslag sal skep vir jongmense om te leer, te groei en tot gemotiveerde, verantwoordelike, bekwame en indiensneembare burgers en leiers te ontwikkel.”

Wyle Pietie Fredericks, na wie dié sentrum genoem is, het vir jeugontwikkeling geveg en dié fasiliteit is ter ere van sy nalatenskap opgerig.

Van Rooy het PPC bedank vir die maatskappy se volgehoue en betekenisvolle bydrae binne die munisipale gebied, asook alle ander rolspelers wat plaaslik ’n verskil maak om gehalte tot jong mense se lewe by te dra. Hy het die jeug aangemoedig om voordeel te trek uit die aanbiedinge wat sal voortspruit uit die aktiwiteite by die Pietie Fredericks-jeugsentrum en inwoners aangemoedig om eienaarskap van hierdie gewaardeerde gemeenskapsbate te neem.

Die rooi tapyt is vir die gaste by die amptelike oorhandiging van die Pietie Fredericks-jeugsentrum uitgerol.

Moorreesburg Golden Oldies was die gasheerklub vir vanjaar se Goue Spele.

Weskus-oues wys hul slag

Die bekende Weskus- Goue Spele vir mense ouer as 60 jaar is hierdie jaar weer in Moorreesburg gehou.

Die Goue Spele, wat deur die Weskus-distriksmunisipaliteit (WDM) gekoördineer word, word in vennootskap met plaaslike munisipaliteite en ander staatsentiteite aangebied.

As gevolg van die Covid-19-pandemie kon hierdie sport- en ontspanningsdag vir bejaardes nie in 2020 en 2021 plaasvind nie en was die deelnemers almal oorgehaal om weer aan die spele deel te neem.

Hierdie projek is deel van die munisipaliteit se sosiale programme wat geleenthede vir gemeenskappe skep.

Boffie Strydom, die burgemeester van die WDM, het gesê die Goue Spele bied die geleentheid aan ouer mense in gemeenskappe om ontspanning en sport te beoefen asook om aktief te wees.

“Julle is die eregaste hier vandag. Sonder die bejaarde groepe en sonder deelnemers kan die dag nie plaasvind nie. Geniet die dag, maak nuwe vriende en wees deel van die genot wat die dag inhou,” het Strydom in sy openingstoespraak gesê.

Die oudste deelnemer by vanjaar se byeenkoms was Elsie Willemse (88) van die Burgersnessie Bejaardes-groep in Porterville.

Die dag is ook bygewoon deur Ray van Rooy, die burgemeester van die Bergrivier-munisipaliteit, raadslede en amptenare van munisipaliteite in die Weskus, asook regeringsamptenare.

Local skills put to global test

The time is fast approaching for the Massey Ferguson Master Mechanic, with Season 2 to be released on 18 November. Returning in an even bigger and better format, the world’s first tractor-based reality show will feature super-sized challenges to showcase the highly motivated and trained Massey Ferguson technicians throughout the country.

Master Mechanic provides a unique glimpse into the technicians’ world of fixing tractors, who not only swing spanners and travel to amazing and different places but use their intellect in conjunction with world-leading technology.

“The life of a technician has changed in recent times with the advent of computers and being connected to the internet. Being a Massey Ferguson technician is filled with adventure, as well as continually learning and being afforded new opportunities. It has now become something special to talk about with your friends around the braai, family and people you come across in your life,” says Dr. Dominik Reus, Managing Director Africa, AGCO.

Entries for Master Mechanic Season 2 closed in mid-August, with filming of the reality show wrapping in September and being released on 18 November on MF Master Mechanic YouTube and Facebook, supported by all major social media channels. All episodes will be released at once for viewers to binge watch.

Six technicians will compete in three teams of two (red, black and grey) for a R100 000 grand prize.

The winning team will also be afforded a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to visit and train at the Massey Ferguson Beauvais factory in France where the Massey Ferguson high horsepower tractors are manufactured.

The team selection will be announced in the first episode of four. The epic final challenge will see the teams attempt to successfully replicate a giant version of the iconic Massey Ferguson Triple Triangle logo by means of a MF 8S equipped with a 2 000 litre Eco Ranger sprayer with 12m booms and eight sections, spraying at 450 litres per hectare. Rate and section control are provided by the Massey Ferguson 8S OEM Data Tronic 5 screen, linked to the ISOBUS Liquid control system.

Master Mechanic is designed and filmed in such a way that anyone can understand, together with some special items for those ‘seasoned’ technicians to enjoy. It is filled with all the emotions, drama and suspense one would expect from a world-class reality show.
